BODY OF GIRL FOUND IN YARD

Corpse of Mary Lowell Discovered on Ground in Rear of Her Boarding-House at No. 147 Waverley Place.

FOUNG WOMAN PROBABLY LEAPED TO HER DEATH.

Friend of Victim Says She Believes She Committed Suicide Because of Sheer Loneliness -Quarrelled with Girl Friend.

ed residence at No. 167 Waverley clace to-day, was found the body of Mary Lowell, a beautiful young woman. There is some mystery about her death, though it is generally believed that she committed suicide some time uring the early morning hours by springing from the window of her room on the third floor of the house. The girl appeared to be about twenty-two or twenty-four years old. She was beautifully dressed when she went to the house on Saturday last and asked for a room. "I am a stenographer and type-writer." she told the janitor, N. F.

question, she giving the name M. Lowell. The janitor did not ask her if she were married or single; nor did she were married or single; nor did he ask her where she had come from. Later in the day an express wagon salled at the house with the woman's trunk. The expressman, so the janior thinks, says that he got the trunk ther at No. 27 or No. 33 Bank street.

Young Girl Caller. Little was seen of the girl after she rented the room. She had no visitors intil last night, when a young girl about nineteen years old rang the bell and asked to see Miss Mary Lowell. The visitor was shown up to the girl's mean, and the two were together for half an hour. Miss Lowell left the house about 3.20 his apartment at 5.30 o'clock this morning and there saw the body of Miss MAN ENDS LIFE IN HOTEL. Lowell. It was fully dressed in a handsome tailor-made gown and had Found evidently only been there a short time. An examination of the body by the police showed that the girl had not been killed instantly when she dived or fell from the window. She had fallen on her side and had then risen partly and then sunk back to die.

Late in Notifying Police. Through some strange source not yet made plain, the police were not notified of the woman's death until after an andertaker had taken charge of the body and removed it to the room she occupied. The undertaker discovered in this same mysterious way that the dead woman had a sister who is believed to be a sister in a convent in Paterson, N. J. He did not learn the name of this

N. J. He did not learn the name of this sister.

When the police from Charles street station began investigations they found that it would have been impossible for the girl to have fallen out of the window and gave it as their opinion that she had climbed to the high sill and dived down to her death.

A letter beginning "Dear Mamie" and signed Mamie Veto, and written from No. 340 West Fifty-fifth street, was found; on the dresser. The writer applogized for not having called and said that she was going to make a visit to Islip. L. I., to see one George, who was trying to rent a house there.

A pocketbook containing a small amount of change was found in the room. The bed had not been occupied. The woman's trunk was not opened. This will be done by the Coroner.

When an Evening World reporter called on Mrs. Veto at her home in East Flifty-fifth street, to-day, she said she believed the girl had ended her life from sheer loneliness, as she had no relatives and scarcely a friend.

"The girl had no blood relatives living here," said Mrs. Veto, "her only brother having died a few years ago. For three years past she had lived with a Miss Wilson, at No. 26 Bank street. She was practically the only fused of her own age that she had, and they quarrelled last week.

"After the quarrel Miss Lowell moved to No. 145 Waverley place. On Sunday night she called on us and told my husband and me that we were the only friends she had in the world. She lest our home about 9 o'clock. On Monday we telegraphed to her to come and see us again, for we sympathized with her loneliness and wanted to brighten her up. She did not reply to our telegram, and we heard nothing of her until we learned to-day that she had ended her life.

"She had worked in a restaurant on Greenwich street for a number of years past and made good wages. I believe the saved quite a little money. She had no love affairs that I knew of, though she was very fond of company. I am convinced that her feeling of lardy knew the man. Had it not been for the familiar walk I should surely have passed without recogniz-pordency that urged her to commit suicide."

A constantly increasing number of physicians prescribe Peruna in their practice. It has proven its merits so thoroughly that even the doctors have overcome their prejudice against so-balled patent medicines and recommend dalled patent medicines and recommend it to their patients.

Peruna occupies a unique position in medical science. It is the only internal systemic catarrh remedy known to the medical profession to-day. Catarrh, as everyone will admit, is the cause of one-half the diseases which afflict mankind. Catarrh and catarrhal diseases afflict one-half the people of United States.

Robert R. Roberts, M. D., Washington, D. C., writes: "Through my own experience as well as that of many of my friends and acquaintances who have been cured or relieved of catarrh by the use of Hartman's Peruna, I can confidently recommend it to those suffering from such disorders, and have no hesitation in prescribing it to my pa-tients."--Robert R. Roberts.

Catarrh is a systemic disease curable only by systemic treatment. A remedy that cures catarrh must aim directly at the depressed nerve centres. This is what Peruna does.

Dr. Llewellyn Jordan, Medical Examiner United States Treasury.

Peruna immediately invigorates the nerve centres which give vitality to the mucous membranes. Then catarrh disappears, Then catarrh is permenetly cured.

If you do not derive prompt and satisfactory results from the use of Peruna, write at once to Dr. Hartman, giving a full statement of your case, and he will be pleased to give you his valuable advice gratis.

Address Dr. Hartman, President of The Hartman Sanitarium, Columbus, Ohio.
